

Complete this part first. This will give you an overview and the context of your passage.

Passage/Book

INTRODUCTION

Introduction

A single sentence is acceptable.

CAUTION: Make sure you cite if you use a book (which is fine). BUT if you cite, you also need a bibliography.

Author

A single sentence is acceptable. This paragraph can be single-spaced.

Date of Writing

A single sentence is acceptable. This paragraph can be single-spaced.

Historical Setting

A single sentence is acceptable. This paragraph can be single-spaced.

Place of Writing

A single sentence is acceptable. This paragraph can be single-spaced.

Recipients

A single sentence is acceptable. This paragraph can be single-spaced.

Occasion and Purpose

A single sentence or perhaps a paragraph (3 or 4 sentences) is acceptable. This paragraph can be single-spaced.

Theme (Message Statement)

This segment is extremely important. The theme, or message statement, is one sentence that summarizes the entire passage. This sentence should include one subject (what the author is talking about) and a compliment (what does the author say about that subject). This paragraph can be single-spaced.

Next come the Book Chart.
Complete this second.

Book Chart

You will need to produce a “book chart.” Simple ones are found in various places. You will need to be specific in the chart. Here you will utilize things you learned in this Bible Study Methods and Hermeneutics course. Make sure you include a grid chart as part of your Book Chart.

Remember: A Book Chart must go Paragraph by Paragraph. Each paragraph must have a short title (2-4 words). Group the paragraphs into segments.

The third part of an Argument is the Simple Outline. This just an outline using the paragraph and segments headings in outline form. This takes a relatively short period of time.

Simple Outline

This is an outline of the entire passage. Be detailed. Please note that this outline needs to harmonize with the argument above and the Book Chart. It would be beneficial if you developed this outline on your own. This can be a simple outline.

From your Simple Outline, make your sentence outline. Each line needs a subject (the topic of the paragraph) and a compliment (what is said about the subject). This becomes the “Big Idea” from which you will preach and teach.

Sentence Outline

This is an outline of the entire passage. Be detailed. Please note that this outline needs to harmonize with the Book Chart above. Each sentence must be a complete sentence with a subject and predicate. Furthermore, each segment and section must be a complete sentence. The sentence for the entire book will be the “theme” as detailed above.

From your Sentence Outline, summarize each line of that outline beneath that sentence. Include how that paragraph or segment relates to the previous and following paragraphs or segments.

ARGUMENT

This is extremely important. You need to work your way through the entire passage paragraph by paragraph. Note the relationship between paragraphs. Explain how each paragraph fits within the entire passage. Segments consisting of several paragraphs need to be explained properly.

Grading: Please note the grade for this assignment will come from (1) the Introduction, (2) the Book Chart, (3) the Simple Outline, (4) the Sentence Outline, (5) the “Argument portion.” Each of these five segments must harmonize with the other four. In other words, the theme cannot disagree with the content of the outline. Likewise, the argument cannot be divergent from the book chart.

Note below the “Writing Helps” on the form your assignment should take.

Writing Helps

1. Do not right-hand justify.
2. Always use Spell-check AND Grammar-check. If you do not know how to do this, please contact a classmate or someone on the EAST library staff.
3. Use the past tense when writing about biblical events.
4. Use 1-inch margins.
5. No page number should appear on first page. Use the upper center for page 2 onward.
6. Proofread your own paper. Have others proofread it also. If you need help with English, get it.
7. Always abbreviate biblical citations within parenthesis (1 Chron 11:1) but write out within the paragraph, like First Chronicles 11:1. Make sure you use the correct abbreviations.
8. Use shorter sentences. Do not run on and on and on.
9. Watch your periods, especially after quotations.
 RIGHT word.” WRONG word”.
10. Stop. Notice, there is only one space between a period and the beginning of the next sentence.
11. Double-space your assignment (except in the Introduction). This is necessary so the teacher can make appropriate notations.
12. Use what you learned from your Research and Writing course. Please do not plagiarize.
